Hello Everyone

Who else is sick of the cold wet weather? I know that I am sick of wading through mud everyday to feed horses. Does any one know why horses insist on standing in the gateway making it even muddier?

Mel has been doing a great job of organising the rally plans and booking instructors. She has shown me some of her ideas for rallies. You guys are in for some fun and informative rallies in the future. Thank you Mel I really appreciate you taking on this role. It has taken a lot of pressure off of me. Giving me more time to participate on the rally day.

I wish to remind everyone that our round of BEDS is coming up on the 19th of September. We need as many people as possible helping with this event. It is a major fundraising day for our club. We need to put on a smoothly run day. So that we impress the zone committee and they will give us a chance to run a round again in the future. Steve and Lesley have taken on the job of arranging judges. Steve using his Norman charm has amazingly already found judges for the PCAV section. Lesley who is also amazing is well and truly on her way to getting the judges for the HRCV section. There will be a sheet listing jobs at pony club for people to volunteer for the jobs that we need to do when running an event. So please put your names down.

I also want to remind everyone that the zone will be running their round of BEDS on the 5th of September and they are requesting that each club provides volunteers.

Charlotte and I were having a discussion the other day about how old your horse really is. Like cats and dogs horses don't live as long as we do. So I went on the Internet and did some research to see how they age compared to us. I have added it below for you to have a look. I hope you find it as informative as I did.

I hope to see you all at the August rally.

Katrina
